Announcement

Appointment of Hal Straight, managing editor of The Vancouver Sun, to the position of publisher of The Edmonton Bulletin, is announced by The Edmonton Bulletin Limited. He will take over his duties in Edmonton on February 15.

His acceptance of the leadership of this newspaper is another step in his brilliant career which saw him rise from university correspondent to the head of the newsroom of The Vancouver Sun, western Canada's largest newspaper.

Mr. Straight started his newspaper career with The Sun in 1933 when he joined the sports department. In 1934 he became a sports columnist, replacing Andy Lytle, who had left for Toronto. The Straight column, "Sport Rays" soon became one of the most widely read and quoted in Vancouver. It was at this time, and when he became The Sun's sports editor, that he staged several of Vancouver's outstanding charity drives through sponsorship of athletic events.

In July, 1942, he was promoted to managing editor and began to put into city and world-wide coverage the same zest and sparkle that had brought him fame as a sports editor.

His work as a newspaper head soon made him one of the top news and promotion directors in Canada and won him the recognition that brought him the offer to publish The Bulletin.

Over 5,000-Franc Notes

French Govt. Meets New Money Crisis

PARIS, Jan. 20.—(AP)—The government ran head on into a new crisis today when the finance commission of the national assembly turned down a cabinet order to take out of circulation all 5,000-franc ($23.36) notes.

THE GOVERNMENT called in the 5,000-franc notes in the name of the nation's banks for two days. The nation's banks were part of Premier Robert Schuman's expanding program against inflation and black marketing.

The financial minister, however, rejected the measure, technically killing it before it even came up for cabinet consideration. However, the cabinet decided to take the measure to the end and if it failed, the government would call a general election.

The commission voted 20 to 20 on a recall measure. Under parliamentary rules a tie vote counts as a rejection.

The new barrier before the government program was thrown up by the commission, which is the Socialist party seemed to have no intention of passing in the assembly.

Earlier, the government, overruled all banks and the Paris bourse closed for two days as a measure of protest.

The five franc and one-half franc notes were recalled and taken out of circulation. The new money was issued in 1947.

Street Closing Proposal Sparks Major Controversy

Proposal by Canadian National Railways to close 96 street near 104 avenue, where CNR lines cross the city boulevard, has sparked controversy in the city.

At Monday night's city council meeting, city commissioners opposed closing the street. Alternative to the closing plan is construction of a subway, such as at 97 street under the CNR lines. The railway has made representations to the Board of Transport Commissioners, seeking closure of the street as ideal solution to its problem. The CNR's stand results largely from the fact that the crossing is located at the throat of switching yards between 96 and 97 streets. In the lower picture the dead-end of 96 street just south of the CNR tracks is shown. This street was closed off to traffic some 30 years ago.

Statement by Tanner Deny No Co-operation In Natural Gas Probe

Only a few private companies had failed to co-operate with the Dominion government sent to Alberta to investigate potential reserves of natural gas with a view to export of gas from the province. The provincial government has placed its entire facilities at the disposal of the team.

MR. TANNER was referring to the fact that the federal mines bureau feared the report to be issued by the team, Dr. G. S. Hume and Alexis Ignatieff, would be incomplete due to "lack of co-operation" by the provincial government.

The Edmonton Bulletin on Tuesday revealed that the report of the two-man team would be issued in Ottawa as soon as it was prepared and that, while two Alberta men, W. J. Dick and M. B. Crawford had been named as Alberta representatives to aid the federal team, they had taken no part in the investigation.

The report indicated that the provincial department of lands and mines had made all statistical and other information available to Dr. Hume and Alexis Ignatieff.

Counsel Says Privilege Bar To Answers

A principle that has been the foundation of British justice since the days of Queen Elizabeth was challenged by Crown counsel in the conspiracy case when George H. Storr, KC, counsel for Dr. Charlotte Whitton, was asked to answer questions which he said were on matters of privilege as communications between solicitor and client.

It is possibly the first time in history here that a counsel, after taking a case for a defendant, has been called to the witness box by Crown counsel in the trial of that defendant.

The question of privilege between counsel and client enables persons to consult their legal advisers and disclose facts, knowing that such disclosures will be held in confidence.

THE QUESTIONS being asked of Mr. Storr dealt with the manuscript of the article written by Harry Campbell, Ottawa editor of New Liberty magazine, one of the accused in the conspiracy charges.

Crown counsel Dr. H. MacKenzie is seeking from Mr. Storr an answer to the question of whether or not he had seen the manuscript of the article written by Harry Campbell, Ottawa editor of New Liberty magazine, one of the accused in the conspiracy charges.

Namao To Be "Trenton of West" In Great Development by RCAF

RCAF station Namao will become the Trenton of the West said Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, chief of the air staff, in Edmonton Wednesday afternoon.

THE R.C.F. STATION at Trenton, Ontario, has been the hub of all air force training, both aircrew and groundcrew, prior to and during World War 2.

Northern Air Command is in reality an operational command, stated the chief of the air staff.

"Namao, eight miles north of Edmonton, will be the new hub of the RCAF in Western Canada," said Air Marshal Curtis.

He added that the new type of range four-engine transports will be used at Namao.

The necessary buildings such as barracks, administration buildings, and mess halls will be erected as possible, stated Air Marshal Curtis.

STRUCTURES TO be built at the expanded base will be permanent concrete with stucco finish, Air Marshal Curtis would give no estimate as to cost of the construction program.

Progress of the plan would depend on availability of building supplies, he added.

What Am I Saying!

By FRANK MORGAN
 If you believe only half of what you hear, be sure it's the right half. Which brings me to the observation that a lie is very often the light that lies in the eyes of a woman... and ever to the question "did you receive from your client, Dr. Charles Whitton, a document purporting to be an article written by the deceased, Harold Diamond?"

Mr. Steer considered that this question related to a communication made to him by his client, and was privileged, and he declined to answer the question.

Mr. MacKenzie then submitted to Magistrate I. L. Howe that the question was not one of subject privilege, and asked for a ruling from the court.

MAGISTRATE HOWE expressed the opinion that the question did not relate to a communication and refused to grant the privilege.

At this point Crown counsel asked for an adjournment to consider their position, and court was to reconvene at 3 p.m.

IN CONVERSATIONS with Mr. Diamond, Roy H. Thomson, chairman of the board and director of New Liberty magazine, had agreed publication of the article had been agreed to by Mr. Thomson.

Mr. Thomson outlined details of the article which were "usually" published under his name.

A. W. MILLER, K.C., examining Dr. Thomson for the first time, told that it would be possible for an article to have been published under Mr. Diamond's name, with the writer having seen the article.

Later Mr. Thomson said Diamond had not denied having written the article in question.

He was in Bermuda when Dr. Thomson said that he had been in Canada and said he had "every evidence" in his mind that he had written the article.

He had been in Edmonton since Monday morning, he admitted when he was examined by Mr. Diamond.

Mr. Diamond had been present at all hearings of the court and had been seen at his summer home at a witness at 12 minutes after ten o'clock Thursday morning.

Mr. Diamond was not seen at his summer home at 10 o'clock and was not seen at his summer home at 11 o'clock.

GEORGE H. STEER, K.C., counsel for Dr. Whitton, was next in evidence.

After questioning by Dr. MacKenzie, a prosecution counsel, Mr. Steer said that since the time the Alberta government passed an order-in-council calling for the withdrawal of the article, he was retained for the 10th and Dr. Whitton at the probe.

Since that time several months ago he had studied several documents for his client.

May Reduce Courts

Political Motives Seen In Sask. Judges Plan

By Chester Bloom
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Jan. 29.—Action of the Saskatchewan provincial government in preparing legislation to reduce the Saskatchewan appeal court from five to four judges, and the court of King's Bench from seven to five judges, is regarded here with a good deal of skepticism.

HON. J. L. HUSKY, minister of justice, declined firmly to say a word of comment on the subject. A similar attitude was taken by other ministers as well as officials of the department of justice, who hold the action is the business of the provincial government.

However, members of the legal fraternity here are quite outspoken. They say that the Saskatchewan government is animated purely by political motives since the provincial government of that province numbers very few friends among the trained legal mind of Saskatchewan. What has happened, they say, is that the provincial government is simply blocking the federal government from filling one existing vacancy on the appeal court and two on the court of King's Bench.

BY CONSTITUTIONAL practice, when a vacancy occurs in a court in any province, it is filled by appointment by the federal government. To increase the number of judges in any court, a province must consult with the federal government since the justice salaries are paid by the federal treasury. A province might ask increase of the number of judges in any court in its jurisdiction, but it does not have to have federal consent to reduce the number since the salary question is not thereby involved.

What is happening, apparently, is that the Saskatchewan government does not want the federal government to fill existing vacancies with trained legal talent who may not happen to see eye to eye with the provincial government's peculiar economic and political theories.

THIS MAY WORK all right in a period such as the present when the large farming population of

Foresees Big Year In Construction

QUEBEC, Jan. 28.—(CP)—Despite import restrictions, a record peacetime construction program is in store for Canada in 1948, George Melnick, parliamentary assistant to Trade Minister Howe, declared yesterday.

Mr. Melnick, in an address prepared for delivery to the Canadian Construction Association's annual convention, said the outlook for the year was for an investment program of $2,600,000,000, compared with the previous peacetime high of $2,000,000,000 last year.

The over-all total would include new business, housing, and institutional construction and purchases of machinery.

Making allowance for further increases anticipated by the industry this year—running to 10 or 15 per cent on the average—Mr. Melnick said that in terms of volume the investment program would be between five and 10 per cent greater than last year's.

On the question of whether import restrictions might slow down the program, Mr. Melnick said there would be "pragmatic of the construction industry."

Comittee May Ban Smoke Screen

OTTAWA, Jan. 28.—(CP)—M. J. Colwell, CCF leader, said yesterday in a statement that he feared the House of Commons price control committee to investigate high prices will be badly restricted from the outset.

It may be able to do no more than to lay the problem on the table, he said. "There is a grave danger that the committee will be a substitute for government action—a window screen behind which little or nothing will be done to reduce living costs."

Pioneer Settler Dies in Hospital

Mrs. Violet Maude (Isabella) Stacey, Edmonton, died within a month of her 67th birthday on Jan. 25, in a local hospital.

Mrs. Stacey was born at Exeter, Ont., Feb. 9, 1881, and moved to the west with her husband and only child in the spring of 1905, settling in the Stettler district at Science Mound. The following spring Mrs. Stacey and family travelled by team and wagon to homestead about 25 miles south-west of Stettler, which at that time was the end of the steel. In the fall of 1911 the village of Carleton Place was staked out and became her nearest trading post.

Mrs. Stacey moved to the Edmonton district in 1912, and for the past 15 years has resided with her daughter, Mrs. Gordon S. McArthur in Edmonton.

Mrs. Stacey is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Gordon McArthur, Edmonton, and two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon in the Howard and McFadden Funeral Chapel. Burial will be in the Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The Rev. Dr. W. K. Young will officiate.

Seek to Avert Packer Strikes

WINNIPEG, Jan. 28.—(CP)—Action to reduce the possibilities of future strikes in the packing-house industry has been launched by the Winnipeg Labor Council (CLO) in line with a suggestion made by George Stapleton, international representative of the United Packinghouse Workers of America.

The action is taking the form of an appeal to the Manitoba government to "waive legislative powers on jurisdiction of labor relations in the meat packing industry."

Other provincial labor organizations will follow Manitoba's lead. Mr. Stapleton said, with a group also approaching the Dominion government to request that it take over jurisdiction of the packing-house industry's labor matters.

"Had the Dominion government had sole legislation several months ago," he said, "it is probable that the national strike in the meat packing industry last fall could have been averted."

"Existing labor legislation is not conducive to sound labor-management in plants of Canada Packers, Swifts and Burns," he continued.

"At the present time, labor relations in the meat packing industry come only within the scope of legislation enacted and administered separately by the nine provinces."

"This means that if a dispute appears imminent the Dominion government cannot intervene in an attempt to conciliate. . . . The only way conciliation can take place is through nine separate pieces of legislation by nine different governments."

"We should learn our lessons from past experiences to realize such an impossible condition should not continue to exist."

"The meat packing industry is of such importance that labor relations in the industry should come within the jurisdiction solely of Dominion legislation."

Tosses Away $64,000 to Negro

Police Search for Eccentric Widow

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(BUP)—Police searched today for 72-year-old Mrs. Livina Albers, widow of a wealthy Park Place bookbinder, who tossed a $64,000 shoe box on a negro neighbor's porch and disappeared into the night.

Mrs. Albers, described as five feet, three inches tall and weighing 100 pounds, was the widow of the late John Albers, a partner in Albers Bros., a book binding firm at 67 Park Place. Albers died two years ago.

Fred Albers, brother of John and present head of the firm, joined police in the search.

Slightly after dark yesterday, Mrs. Albers tossed a crumpled shoe box on the porch of Mrs. Livina Smith, Albers' daughter, who was coming from work as a triest at the board of education in Brooklyn.

"I put a box on your porch," she told Mrs. Smith. "It has some old shoes and stockings for your mother."

Mrs. Smith opened the box, found the money, and telephoned police.

A short time later, Mrs. Albers, wearing a black coat with a fur collar and a black hat, met Mrs. Hanna Smith, Mrs. Albers' daughter who was coming from work as a triest at the board of education in Brooklyn.

Find Many Reasons Appreciation of Fine Arts Is Booming Now in Britain

By SHAUN MCQUILLAN

LONDON, Jan. 28.—(CP)—Scores of recent art exhibitions and classical concerts has produced from leading art critics and artists agreement on one point—appreciation of the fine arts is booming in Britain.

The final attendance figures of the recent 175-picture exhibition at the Tate Gallery of 19th century Vincent Van Gogh revealed the largest number—137,452—ever recorded at the gallery. The Arts Council, which sponsored the exhibition, expressed astonishment at the public reaction.

Concert halls and art galleries throughout the United Kingdom report the same enthusiasm; visitors have come from Glasgow, Edinburgh and other leading towns.

Some newspaper columnists have suggested the ban on American films in Britain will do much to raise attendance at concert halls, museums and art galleries; others say the draughtiness of Britain's post-war austerity has increased her people's desire to balance the illusion that life is all shortages and ration books, all work and no play.

Another theory is that Britons have little to buy with their money and therefore broaden their pleasures to suit their pockets. Besides the boom in art and music, theatres, dance halls, sport stadiums and bookmakers all report flourishing business.

At Annual Conference

Farmers' Federation Makes Strong Protest

By H. Dent Hodgson

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 29.—(CP)—A strong protest against what was termed the "manifest injustice" of the federal government's policy of partial reconrol was registered yesterday at the close of open sessions of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture's 12th annual conference.

The 200 delegates unanimously endorsed a resolution protesting the "manifest injustice of singling out major agricultural products for the reimposition of ceiling prices without the introduction of a general policy of price control."

Attention to rising prices was shown in two of the several dozen resolutions considered at the open sessions. At closed meetings of the board of directors continuing through Friday, the resolutions will be polished for presentation later in a brief to the federal cabinet.

One resolution charged the farmers' union was being blamed for exploiting other sections of the community and receiving the major benefit of any price increases on foodstuffs. The association said this was "far from the truth" and resolved "to counteract this propaganda and set the facts before the consuming public through newspaper and radio publicity."

The federation also urged that the federal government enact marketing legislation which would enable farmers to control their own affairs without government intervention.

Such a step had been urged repeatedly and eight provinces which passed provincial marketing legislation had indicated that such action was in the public interest. "Falling assurance that such legislation will be introduced at the present session of parliament the CFA demands to know why the government of Canada, by its lack of action in this important matter, is apparently of the opinion that the farmers of Canada should be kept permanently in an inferior position as compared with other elements of society and such reasons should be published for the information of all Canadian farmers," the resolution said.

OTHER RESOLUTIONS endorsed at the open meeting urged:

1. Continuation of freight assistance on feed grains until embodied in a permanent national policy.
2. Stabilization of prices of milk feeds and protein concentrates to maintain relationship between costs and returns existing when livestock contracts were negotiated.
3. Amendment of the wheat board act to establish the board as sole marketing agency for all other grains.

4. That the federal government do "everything possible" to assist dairy farmers to obtain cost of production plus a "fair" margin by various means including continuation of the ban on margarine and a floor price on butter.

5. Removal of the ban on export of cattle to the United States.

U.S. Funeral Ship Sinks Suddenly

BOSTON, Jan. 29.—(HUP)—The army funeral ship Joseph W. Connolly, whose 46 crewmen were rescued dramatically when it was swept by fire early this month, sank suddenly today while being towed to New York.

There was no one aboard the burned transport when it foundered about 1,000 miles east of Boston, according to a report from the Coast Guard cutter Acushnet. The Connolly had been taken in tow Monday by the cutter and the commercial salvage tug Curs. A brief message from the Acushnet said the tow lines to the Connolly snapped when a snow squall struck the vessel this morning.

The 7,000-ton funeral ship was bound from New York to Europe with 4,000 coffins aboard to return war dead when swept by fire.

ROME, Jan. 29.—(CP)—The first Canadian post-UNRRA aid to Italy was transferred to the Italian government yesterday by Canadian Ambassador Jean Desy in ceremonies at Genoa.

A similar ceremony will be held at Leghorn today.

In offering $400,000 worth of foodstuffs, Desy was quoted as telling Italian officials that the crisis which the Italian people have passed "has shaken but not defeated you."

Desy said that the constant demonstrations of energy by the Italians "have won for you our esteem and admiration."

He disclosed that ships from Canada will bring 10,000 tons of food and considerable quantities of petroleum. The estimated supplies will provide food requirements for 40,000 Italians from now until the next harvest.

War Minister Says Revolutionary Plot

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 29.—(AP)—War Minister Anastasio Somoza charged yesterday that Guatemalan President Juan J. Arévalo was aiding a revolutionary attempt in Nicaragua. "Guatemala is the focus of a revolution which is intended for Nicaragua," he asserted, adding that the plot was hatched because of the persecution that Communism is experiencing in Nicaragua as a measure to defend social order and our institutions."

Russia Protests U.S. Plan To Re-Open Africa Base

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Russia has objected to United States plans to reopen an air base in North Africa. First word that a formal protest has been filed with both the United States and Britain came in a Moscow radio broadcast today.

Government officials said a reply will be sent to Moscow within the next few days.

They declined to predict what it will be. But they stressed that the United States and Britain feel they have a legal right to put American-built Mellahs airbase, near Tripoli, back in operation.

Moscow Radio said Russia contends that United States operation of the air field in the former Italian colony of Libya is contrary to the terms of the Italian peace treaty.

A United States air force announcement in Germany Jan. 14 said the Mellahs base is to be used as a service stop for Air Transport Command planes.

Fear New Walkout Of German Workers

FRANKFURT, Jan. 29.—(AP)—A new strike threat which might involve 4,000,000 workers appeared developing today amid German unrest over food shortages.

About 1,000,000 workers in the American zone state of Wurttemberg-Baden may strike Friday.

The same day, union leaders from the Ruhr and Rhineland will meet in Mulheim to decide whether to call out the 3,000,000 workers in those British industrial zones.

These threats followed hunger strikes of 1,000,000 Bavarians and some 400,000 Ruhr workers in recent weeks.

"Know He Has Something"

Non-Medical Man Claims To Have Cure For Cancer

SYDNEY, Jan. 29.—(Reuters)—John Brand, non-medical Sydney apothecarian whose claims to cure cancer have aroused public controversy, yesterday removed a growth from a woman, diagnosed as suffering from cancer of the ovaries, in the presence of doctors, nurses and reporters.

After his removal of the growth, a cancer specialist examined the wound with a strong lens and declared it was "perfectly clean."

An expert committee recently made inquiry into Brand's claims to have a formula enabling the removal of growths and was satisfied that patients treated by Brand were cancer sufferers.

A cancer specialist of world renown recently said: "I have been examining Brand's patients for four years and know he has something. Until his treatment is disclosed it will be impossible to determine its limitations."

"From what I already know it will mean scraping possibly millions of pounds worth of equipment, Deep X-ray and radium therapy will go by the boards."

Warmer Weather For Some U.S. Areas

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Relief from the severe cold weather which has enveloped nearly every section of the United States and parts of Canada appeared in prospect for some United States areas today, alleviating in some measure the critical fuel shortage which has crippled production in many industries and brought misery to thousands.

After three days of temperatures far below zero, readings today generally were above that mark in the Dakotas to Illinois in the north central area.

The warmer air was expected to move eastward into the Atlantic seaboard. But there was no immediate relief from the unusually chilly weather, snow and sleet in most of the southern states.

Free Enterprise Union in England

LONDON, Jan. 29.—(CP)—A London committee of the "Union of Enterprise" has been formed at a meeting of industrialists here.

Manchester industrialists, who started the movement in the north, told Londoners that their main object is to "provide free enterprise from whatever source it is obtained."

"Hundreds of industrialists are joining," said L. S. Hargrave, managing director of Manchester. "We are going to fight for free enterprise to make Britain great again."

The founders claim that they are non-political and will build their organization on business lines which will "outdo the best political organization."

PEDIATRICIANS RECOMMEND WHEAT GERM CEREALS

A prominent child specialist on the staff of one of the country's largest Children's Hospitals gives this advice: "Many of us, including our children, eat too little thiamine or Vitamin B. This is because we use too much sugar and low thiamine cereals."

If we would use whole-grain cereals instead, we would get plenty of thiamine, and in addition we would add valuable amounts of several other of the B Vitamins and of iron to our diets.

Another advantage of using generous amounts of the whole-grain products is that the cellulose in them helps to prevent constipation."

Canadian Girl Violinist To Play at Carnegie Hall

WINNIPEG, Jan. 29.—(BUP)—An attractive young Canadian girl whose violin playing has been claimed as exceptional and whose story reads like that of Cinderella, will be playing at Carnegie Hall at the famous Carnegie Hall on Jan. 30.

She is 20-year-old Donna Greco, of Winnipeg, and although her success is due to her own talent, she is the first to agree that luck has played a large share in it. For instance, her family is of modest means, but ever since they gave her an old violin just before she went to school, the instruments she has used have been presented to her. The Natushka violin she hopes to use for the Carnegie Hall concert cost $200,000 dollars but it was bought with the generous subscription of her friends and admirers at Winnipeg.

Her mother and father at first were against her entering the Beverford School of Music and warned Donna that if she took up music she would have to spend her time practicing instead of playing with her friends, but she insisted and her parents gave way, so proudly clutching an old violin the Beverford representative told her. Mrs. Greco, for $5, the little girl started on her musical career. For three months, Donna studied and practiced and at the end of that time she transferred to the Winnipeg. There she went to class with all her friends, but she still kept up her music. By the time she was eight years old, she was called a musical genius and had many offers to play in concerts and radio broadcasts. However, her family decided that she should have a normal education, so these offers were turned down.

Two years later, when she was 10, Donna won a $5,000 dollar scholarship at the American Conservatory of Music at Chicago, which she eagerly accepted. Again her playing attracted wide attention, but she was unhappy to far from home and at the end of the term she returned to Winnipeg. There she studied under the direction of George Bornoff.

In 1932, Miss Greco appeared in Winnipeg's annual musical festival, and she received the highest rating the judges ever given. A second concert was organized for her, and with the proceeds a valuable 18th century violin was presented to her.

There's also a chance of Donna being offered a Hollywood contract. A talent scout from one of the big studios will be at Carnegie Hall on Jan. 30, and he may have something to say to the Canadian girl when the concert is over. However, Donna herself feels that the time is not yet ripe for her to go into motion pictures. "I would rather go to Hollywood after I have established myself," she says, "rather than make my name appearing in films. In the future I would like to give my own compositions, and also I would be a better investment for the studio concerns."

Yes, music is Donna's life, and she has devoted her whole self to it. This is how she puts it: "I feel I have something to give the world and I think it my duty to give what I have. If I should feel I was wasting both my time and what talent I possess."

Meat Shipments To England Stop

BUNEN AHERS, Jan. 29.—(AP)—Packers said yesterday that meat shipments for England will be halted in the next two or three days because of a breakdown in Anglo-Argentine trade negotiations. An average of two or three ships per week carry 10,000 tons of meat for England.

Big Storm Told

PARIS, Jan. 29.—(BUP)—The French press agency reported today that a big storm and heavy rains of some 20 inches were forecast for the entire French coast and was followed by floods.

Shoe Designers Veto Open Toes

MONTREAL, Jan. 27.—(CP)—Ladies, the open-toe is doomed. It won't be long before you will be wearing your dated footware into a dark corner where the short dress can't go.

That's what the stylists said at the interviews at the annual convention of the Shoe Manufacturers Association of Canada. Admittedly the fashion clubs have something to do with it.

"It's going to mean longer lasts and slimmer shoes, but most important it's going to mean an end to open-toe shoes," the designers said. "The change will come slowly but it is definitely on its way. Most manufacturers already have longer lasts on hand for producing samples, and there is a springing of new shoes this spring. Eventually, open work on any part of the feminine shoe will disappear except for sport and evening wear."

Chancing men's styles seems a little louder, the shoe men indicated. There are no startling developments in styles in the office. Moccasins, introduced in Canada about 1932, are an example that one manufacturer had to ration them to his retail outlets. Men now are wearing them in numbers.

The shoe called "laser" hit its peak of acceptance last year but it's still not approved for business wear. This year they will be dressier than ever, and one American manufacturer has 37 different styles in this line. The pattern is even better used for formal wear.

No Wages, No Work

When they failed to receive their monthly wages, the men of the Municipal street car and water supply workers struck at noon yesterday when they failed to receive their monthly wages.

Sign-of-Spring

However, the T. Eaton Co. came to the rescue with an $800 gown of silver brocade which was worn by Donna Greco at the Carnegie Hall concert. It was the same gown she wore when she appeared at Carnegie Hall last February 20, and it made her debut at the New York Town and Country party of aristocratic Winnipeg citizens, headed by Mayor Gerald Coulter and Ralph W. McKinnon, M.P., were on hand for the occasion. Her appearance was hailed by the 380 guests and such phrases as "a highly exceptional violinist" and "an uncommonly talented girl" appeared in their reviews that day.

Now the Canadian girl is preparing for her first appearance at Carnegie Hall. Her mother is planning to be there. "Donna is planning to be there," her mother said, "and again many of her friends and admirers from Winnipeg hope to be present."

For the future, Donna says her ambition is simply to become a recognized concert artist. She wants to get married too, of course, just as any girl of her age, but she has devoted her life to music and she can't feel she could possibly give it up.

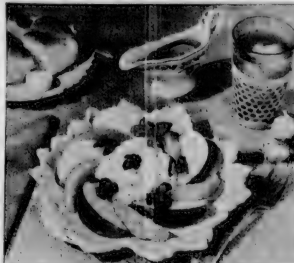

She also hopes in time to tour Europe and play in London and Paris. Next summer she is planning to visit Mexico and South America, and make concert appearances there. Last year she toured Canada and the United States, and also spent some time with the Boston Symphony Orchestra at the annual Festival of Music.

There's also a chance of Donna being offered a Hollywood contract. A talent scout from one of the big studios will be at Carnegie Hall on Jan. 30, and he may have something to say to the Canadian girl when the concert is over.

However, Donna herself feels that the time is not yet ripe for her to go into motion pictures. "I would rather go to Hollywood after I have established myself," she says, "rather than make my name appearing in films. In the future I would like to give my own compositions, and also I would be a better investment for the studio concerns."

Yes, music is Donna's life, and she has devoted her whole self to it. This is how she puts it: "I feel I have something to give the world and I think it my duty to give what I have. If I should feel I was wasting both my time and what talent I possess."

Colorful Tasty Salad

Salads made of abundant winter fruits, such as the apple, keep up the nutrition in your family menus without upsetting your budget. In the picture is an apple mince salad, nutritious, but non-fattening.

Apples, Rich With Vitamins, Go Well With Meat Dishes

Apples form an important basis in maintaining the normal alkalinity of the body. Fruit apples are a good source of vitamin C and minerals, very necessary in forming teeth and bones.

This favorite of Canadian-grown fruits is plentiful this year and at this time they are in perfect condition to make excellent nutritious desserts, sauce for meats, salads or even canned for the children.

When we think of apples we usually associate them with the dessert course, but what would roast pork be without applesauce?

Here is an inexpensive dish that is made special with tangy applesauce.

Sausage and Apple Casserole
1 pound pork sausages
3 tablespoons water
4 medium sweet potatoes
1 teaspoon salt
2 large apples
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup boiling water

Place the sausages in a cold frying pan and add the water. Cover the pan and simmer slowly until the water evaporates. Remove the cover and brown the sausages on all sides. Cook sweet potatoes in water until tender, then peel and cut the potatoes in half lengthwise.

Line the bottom of a greased casserole with the sweet potatoes halves. Place the browned sausages over the potatoes. Season with salt. Wash and core, then slice the apples and place over the sausages. Sprinkle with the brown sugar and add the boiling water and the 1 1/2 cups of applesauce.

Apple Pinwheel Salad
2 cups cottage cheese
1 cup finely chopped chives (optional)
2 apples
2 oranges
1 pinch of salt
French dressing
Combine cheese, salt and chives.

Apple Pie
Line pie plate with pastry. Cover with layer of thinly sliced apples. Allow about 2 tablespoons of sugar to each apple. Sprinkle sugar with butter. Sprinkle with cinnamon or nutmeg over layer of apples. Dot with butter. Repeat until pie plate is well filled. Roll out top crust and place pastry for upper crust. Bake in a hot oven 425° F. for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 350° F. and bake for 20 to 25 minutes longer, or until apples are tender.

Scalloped Apples
Cut small steaks into two. Remove soft parts and crumb fatty fat. Mix 3 tablespoons butter and salt in cream lightly with flour. Cover bottom of a buttered baking dish with cream. Spread with a thick layer of B.C. Apples, cut in thin slices. Sprinkle with sugar and a dash of cinnamon. Repeat, covering top with meat and apples. Place in a moderate oven for 40 minutes. Cover with a greasy crust and burning. Serve with sugar and cream.

Apple and Salmon Salad
Yield five servings.
2 to 4 raw apples, sliced
1 cup flaked salmon
1 cup cream
1 cup salad dressing
Combine sliced apples and salad dressing. Add other ingredients and toss together lightly. Place in a salad bowl. Garnish with parsley. Serve cold.

Liver Casserole
Yields 4 to 5 servings.
2 onions
1 B.C. Apple
1 1/2 pounds liver
2 medium potatoes
1 teaspoon sugar
Salt and pepper
Cut the onions up fine. Put liver in boiling water. Lift out. Put liver in liver in casserole. Add one layer each of onions, sliced raw potatoes and sliced apples. Add salt, pepper and sugar. Repeat with layers of liver. Have a layer of potatoes on top. Add one cup of stock or boiling water. Bake in 1 1/2 hours.

CFA President Reviews Progress

Canadian Farmers Best-Informed On World Problems Says Hannam

By H. DENT HODGSON
BROCKVILLE, Ont., Jan. 29.—(CP)—Canadian farmers are better informed and have a keener interest in world problems than those of any other country, H. H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, said today.

If chives are unsatisfactory at the time of year, use parsley for the green coloring. Pick cheese mixture in a mound in centre of each plate. Cut apples into thin slices and use lemon juice. Use orange and cut out segments. Arrange orange and orange segments alternately around cheese in pineapple fashion with dressing. Serve hot.

SUPERSONIC KNIFE
MONTREAL.—(CP)—Recently appearing on the market here is a "supersonic" knife which "slices" faster than the speed of sound in air and cuts to the bone with a microsecond to find the silver of metal it slices off. A slice of ham can be cut a thousandths of an inch thick, the manufacturer claims.

But, even before that at the conference themselves," he added. "Canadians showed keener interest than delegates from other countries in these responsibilities. It is probably because they have a higher stake in the world's welfare than farmers of other lands."

Other countries—were the United States—had internal markets for their goods. Canadian farmers had to export the bulk of their produce. The CFA president said the two-day conference which concluded yesterday was the most important in the history of the federation. It agreed with J. A. Martin of Montreal, second vice-president, that a definite step had been made in the acknowledgment of the federation's importance by Agriculture Minister G. C. Stewart.

Mr. Hannam addressed the delegates Tuesday and said the CFA had grown into an organization truly representative of the industry and of real value to the government in formulating its farm policies.

It was with a clear endorsement of the "coming-of-age" of the federation, Mr. Hannam said.

Reviewing progress at the 12th annual meeting of the CFA, Mr. Hannam said it had reflected a growing concern over farmers' responsibilities in formulating world peace because of the numerous world-wide problems which confronted Canadians have existed.

The Bell Telephone Company of Canada was from the banking committee of the Senate approval of the request for a capital increase to the present $150,000,000 to $200,000,000 and accepted the suggestion of Senator St. Laurent (Liberal) that the traditional 100 per cent value of its shares be set at 40¢ to give the little man a chance to join in its endeavor.

Round-The-World Trip In Ocean Going Truck

By SHERRY BOWEN

NEW YORK, Jan. 28.—(AP)—A mining engineer from Australia plans to leave here soon on a round-the-world trip in an ocean-going truck.

Frederick Benjamin Carlin says he will head his squat little craft out of New York harbor for the Azores. The craft is a United States army amphibian truck purchased from War Assets Administration.

From the Azores, the sea route leads to Casablanca where his boat-truck will take to its wheels for the trek across North Africa, the Near East and India to Calcutta. He plans to go by sea to Burma, thence by land to Saigon and then by sea again to Pelawan, Zamboanga, Mindanao, Palau, Truk, Bikini, Wake, Midway, Honolulu and San Francisco.

A special grow, gasoline tank, two-way radio and navigation equipment have been installed.

For the long sea hops there is a big, barge-shaped 500-gallon tank to clamp under the wheels. With a cruising speed of five miles an hour, using a gallon of gasoline an hour Carlin figures his estimated range of 2,700 miles. His longest water miles will be about 2,400 miles.

His routes are selected to take advantage of favorable winds and currents.

The big under-wheel tank gives no buoyancy, only fuel capacity, being always full of either gasoline or water. In total voyage it has lent stability to the craft in the water. On land, it rides on top. A water tight plastic and steel superstructure discourages waves from washing aboard. If Carlin encounters real heavy weather, he plans to rig a heavy canvas guard on the pump, throw out a sea anchor, and sit tight.

Although the ocean jumps are most spectacular, he expects more trouble on the roads through the Near East, Western India and in Burma. At a major in the Indian army engineers he travelled over much of that area in the Second world war.

Carlin says he has spent some $7,000 of his personal savings in preparations and has ample left for travel expenses.

Oil Shortage Even Hits Representative

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—(AP)—The fuel oil shortage became a personal matter yesterday to a member of the United States house commerce committee investigating the situation.

Representative J. W. Heston (Rep.-Maine), one of the principal committee questioners, found that despite the most persistent thumping of his cigarette lighter would not light—out of fuel. He borrowed a match.
